Wales's national anthem

Hen Wlad Fy Nhadau

Mae hen wlad fy nhadau yn annwyl i mi,
Gwlad beirdd a chantorion, enwogion o fri;
Ei gwrol ryfelwyr, gwladgarwyr tra mad,
Tros ryddid collasant eu gwaed.

Cytgan

*Gwlad, gwlad, pleidiol wyf i'm gwlad,
Tra môr yn fur
I'r bur hoffbau,
O bydded i'r heniaith barhau.*

Hen Gymru fynyddig, paradwys y bardd,
Pob dyffryn, pob clogwyn, i'm golwg sydd hardd;
Trwy deimlad gwladgarol, mor swynol yw si
Ei nentydd, afonydd, i mi.

Cytgan

Os treisiodd y gelyn fy ngwlad dan ei droed,
Mae hen iaith y Gymry mor fyw ag erioed,
Ni luddiwyd yr awen gan erchyll law brad,
Na thelyn berseiniol fy ngwlad

Our Anthem

If you are not from Wales the words underneath this paragraph will not make sense as they are in Welsh our special language .

- Our National Anthem was made by a boy and his father

The words of the Welsh National Anthem date from January 1856 and were printed two years later, in 1858. Until then Wales had no National Anthem. The words are attributed to Evan James from Pontypridd and his son, James James, inspired by an old melody composed for the harp, set the words to music. The Anthem was sung at the National Eisteddfod in 1874 and since then has been recognised as a true expression of Welsh national sentiment. It is uncertain when the piece was adopted as the Welsh National Anthem. It should be sung in Welsh only, the language, of course, being an integral part of Welsh national identity. The difficulties encountered in translating the Welsh accounts for a variety of renderings in English.

Wales (and Pembrokeshire)

A few miles from our school is a village called Saint David's it would be a normal village if it wasn't for the Cathedral, because it has a Cathedral it is a city . It is the only village to have a Cathedral in the United Kingdom.

A man called Waldo Williams came to our village (Puncheston) and he was a poet and was a head teacher in our school for a long time ago . When he wasn't a teacher he was writing poems like one famous one called Tangnefeddwyr

In Pembrokeshire in Whitland there lives a famous rugby player called Mike Philips Wales 's scrumhalf.

CAWL

Cawl is Wales' special food it is usually made of beef ,potatoes, leek , carrots ,cheese and bread we eat it on special occasions one of which is a day called Saint.David's day when everyone dresses up.
